How Generation X Ministers
Are Shaping
Unitarian Universalism

Edited by
Tamara Lebak & Bret Lortie

The Latest Book from Jenkin Lloyd Jones Press:

"Generation X'ers talk about cynicism as being one of the threads running through their generation, but there is no cynicism here. This is a hopeful, intelligent, fresh collection of sensitive voices. Anyone tempted to resignation in the face of our difficulties should read this as a corrective."

*Rev. Dr. Laurel Hallman
Minister Emeritus
First Unitarian Church, Dallas*

"Practical, provocative, and passionate, these generational essays from up and coming ministers calling for more theological discipline and depth in our congregations should be on every Unitarian-Universalist Book Table and in all our ministers' libraries."

*Rev. Dr. Forrest Church
Minister Emeritus
All Souls Unitarian Church, New York*
